

Our 30th Season!

2016 – 2017

Books Between Bites at

Batavia Public Library, 10 South Batavia Avenue

Bring a lunch (or purchase at Chapters Coffeehouse & Café) to enjoy during the program

Please note a date change for our final program of the season!

Originally May 18th, it is now:

Thursday, May 25, 2017

Noon – 1:00 PM

Strangers Tend to Tell Me Things

Author/Presenter: Amy Dickinson

We welcome Amy Dickinson to Batavia Public Library to tell us about her newly published book Strangers Tend to Tell Me Things. She is also the author of the New York Times bestselling memoir, The Mighty Queens of Freeville: A Story of Surprising Second Chances.

Dickinson writes the syndicated advice column “Ask Amy,” read by an estimated 22 million readers daily. She is also a featured panelist on NPR’s comedy quiz show “Wait Wait...Don’t Tell Me!”

Books will be available for Sale & Signing

Betty Moorehead & Becky Hoag
Books Between Bites
630/482-9157

Co-sponsored & hosted by
Batavia Public Library
630/879-1393

Website:

BooksBetweenBites.com

Our thanks to BATV for recording these programs.

Many videos from the past 29 years are available to be checked out from the Library.

Watch for news of our 2017-18 Season in late August.

Order a lunch in advance from
Chapters
Coffeehouse & Café
630/406-8005
Pick up when you arrive